"IMPORTANCE OF NATIONAL INTEGRATION
IN TODAY'S WORLD"

"National Integration" refers to the terms like "national harmony", "unity", and "oneness". Taking the example of my own country "India" where the "fathers of different religion, language, cast and culture are woven in one garment of unity". The flashback India had told the "Importance of National Integration" he about seventy-four years ago on August 15, 1947 India got independence from the British Raj.

India was one of the wealthiest country in the world having varieties of soil types and schemes which attracted Britishers then how this "golden bird" captured by the Britishers? Each and every child of mother India knows them that the disunity and lack of unity among the Indians resulted around about "two centuries" of slavery of India which destroyed our India's wealth as well as the division of India and Pakistan, the very reason we now need to make "Alford Blame". Only if India was aware of the term "Integration", "Unity" & "H" would be still called "the golden bird". The English snatched away everything from our hands including our

Importance of National Integration in Today's World

India is sovereign, socialist, secular democratic and republic country which makes this diverse country integrated nationally and it is possible because of efforts of our revolutionaries and leaders in which one of the most prominent name is Bal Gangadhar Tilak, The Iron man of India and as minister for Home & State Affairs had the responsibility of welding British Indian Provinces and Princely states into a united India. In present scenario, the sense of being an Indian is more than in the past. However, there are some challenges and threats also.

National Integration

is the awareness of a common identity among the citizens of the country, this needs that although we belong to different castes, religions, speak different language, eat different kinds of food, wear different clothes but we recognize the fact that we all are one. Like a 27 year old girl from North East India (Assam), Sakshi Mima Dev Chetri, an Indian weight lifter, won the silver medal at 2020 Tokyo Olympics on which not only every Indian was proud on her but she inspired the million

IN TODAY'S WORLD

National Integration refers to the bond people (within a country) share irrespective of having differences in caste, gender or the history which divided them in the past. Jawaharlal Nehru first addressed this issue in 1946. The nation had to do to rise to get over the evils like regionalism, casteism etc. As of now, the things have already changed to a great extent and will also continue to change if we people start coming together for the purpose of it. It is essential for a positive aspect so is the integration. However, it would be wrong to say it is important because, with National Integration several things like:

- Economic growth within the nation.
- As people within the country start respecting and accepting people under all the religious and caste, no one is left out for much long. There will be a lot of less discrimination among them. Which will let your concentrate more on work doing to the economic growth.
- Independence from the foreigner.
- The sense of togetherness will make its way out of every person leaving not

THESIS STATEMENT: SOCIAL INTEGRATION IS THE PROBLEMS OF DIVERSITY IN A COUNTRY.

INTRODUCTION: In a country of wide religious differences, culture, good ideas, our country India illustrates geographically, demographic, population, Secularism stands for respecting every religion, culture, and accepting them with honor. India consist of various races, castes, creed of people in a country where as many types of people live, it is important to sustain social harmony. In today's world where a simple social order where all past can create huge discrepancies and can cause imbalance in society. It is important to prevail of tolerance among the people.

A. Integrating citizens can be the solution to this very problem. Only in a country agrees peace
in a country, the biggest problem is the causing root

National integration refers to bringing and peace of mind among many countries and millions of human beings irrespective of their race, religion, culture, language, etc. In fact, national integration is a process. However, this also is not easy. Because there are so many differences among people, such as various differences between people in certain areas. It is very difficult to bring up all the valuable suggestions and ideas, which could have been utilized for better progress.

The primary task of national integration is to create harmony and unity. This is ensured by providing education and equal opportunities to all citizens, irrespective of their race and gender. Hence, contributing to the growth and development of a nation. India is an example of a very successful implementation of such a system, as it is a superpower. It is a combination of diversity with mutual adjustments and social equality within its borders. Hence, national integration is a resource for the well-being and growth of India.

Precise

Median Tide is extremely elusive, it is also uniquely integrated. Records of efforts by the government to generate a broad Indian identity have resulted in Indians feeling a sense of nationalism and our increasing patriotism. It is these very efforts that have led to Today.

Religious and communal divisions have always existed in India, they are only amplified by the British in their attempt to hold on to their power. Right wing wings subsections of the Indian population feel that India must be separated from the rest of the world being targeted for mostly accusations with terrorism. They have been doing so for quite some time, as they just appeal to their political masters who are in religion to further their political agendas.

It is our young generation that stands opposed to such meaningless violence with an slogan like

TOPIC: "IMPORTANCE OF NATIONAL INTEGRATION IN TODAY'S WORLD"

In today's there is lot of integration. Integration of race, caste, religion, gender etc. we will by themselves very much & Individual & the importance of interdependence has greatly increased. In India, the most important thing is the unity of India. The most important factor which can bring unity is to help people to overcome their fear and all other problems which is facing country.

In integration, all the individuals have equal rights to go forward. So to integrate various aspects of our life we need to support each other openly. We have to be a complete collaboration as nation. We have to be friendly with each other. This can be done due to following. As it is a complete separation among the individual we need to focus on our whatever we get equally in our right rate so that our country will remain in a competition among the individual. Some of us people are interested in their own areas and some are interested in solving any problem of the country. We have to develop a sense of a complete participation of the individual.

In National Integration, we need to focus on our conviction of all people, unity among all people. There is a complete harmony and the members of the country have equal rights to support right
