Importance of National Unity

"Individually, we are just one color but together we make a rainbow."
The words like 'unity', 'harmony', 'strength', are often overlooked and have been confined to the dictionary only words only have importance and hold any meaning when they are practiced or used in daily life. Sadly, the feeling of unity has decreased or even been abolished from people's minds these days.
We have all read about the stories on unity since childhood and performed several group activities during our school or college times. These stories and activities were not just for fun but also to inculcate the feeling of unity and to teach the students the importance of the same. If we observe our human body, various organs function together in a co-ordinated manner for the proper functioning of the body. Hence, it is said that "None can do so little but together we can do so much". India is still a developing nation and is in progress to become developed. The road to development can be

Unity of the people is the best way to remove inequality and other social issues like racial discrimination, gender disparity etc. National unity and integrity are essential to promote a country.

A national unity government, government of national unity (GNU), or national union government is a broad coalition government consisting of all parties in the legislature, usually formed during a time of war or other national emergency. The mutual synergy of ideas between communities living in different civilisations and cultures is called national unity. It makes the nation strong and important at the international level. For this unity, it is necessary to have a sense of mutual love, harmony, brotherhood, trust and sacrifice among the citizens.

Importance of National Unity

"Diversity is not about how we differ. Unity is about embracing one another's uniqueness."

National unity is a strength that binds and inspires the spirit of our country. Thus, its flexibility, its protection, peace, independence and sovereignty are directly dependent on and relative to a nation's pride, patriotism and social cohesion, which we all know as a unity.

India If we talk about the value the importance of national unity where in post 1 we benefited with when we then had shown national unity. The best example is the growth of GDP of India at the world's level.

In 1900, the G India contributed 2% of the world's GDP, then

Ways to achieve National Unity

"Our existence is with National Unity. It is our responsibility to maintain it."

In every Society, there is a need to promote unity and understanding among the people of that Society. Without national unity, the law may not be able to keep the law of people together. There is a wide variety of reasons that why such and every member of the world should have national unity.

National Unity day is celebrated on 31st October every year in the memory of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel - 'The Iron Man of India' & 'Home Minister of India'. He is also known as the 'Father' of India's Civil Services and the 'Iron Man of India'.

National Unity is being together of a particular ethnic group or Society in peace and harmony devoid of any hatred or discrimination, this is aimed at promoting economic and social well-being of the Society. It is seen that people

Importance of National Unity in Diversity

The term "Unity in Diversity" refers to the state of harmonious co-existence of the people of the country of 'Unity in Diversity'.

"Unity in Diversity" is a term based on the concept of individual or social differences in physical attributes, skin, colour, caste, creed, cultural and religious practices etc. We must learn to live with a conflict. Such differences are based upon a variety of social, ethnic, and the nation as a whole. Unity in Diversity is a very important principle because we all live in a diverse world. It is essential to respect each other and support each other no matter what our culture, background, gender, education, or other differences may be.

With the help of such laws we can stand together even though there are many differences amongst us. Students can also practice unity in other fields to improve their writing skills.
