Student Development Programme on
"Acing the Personal Interview"

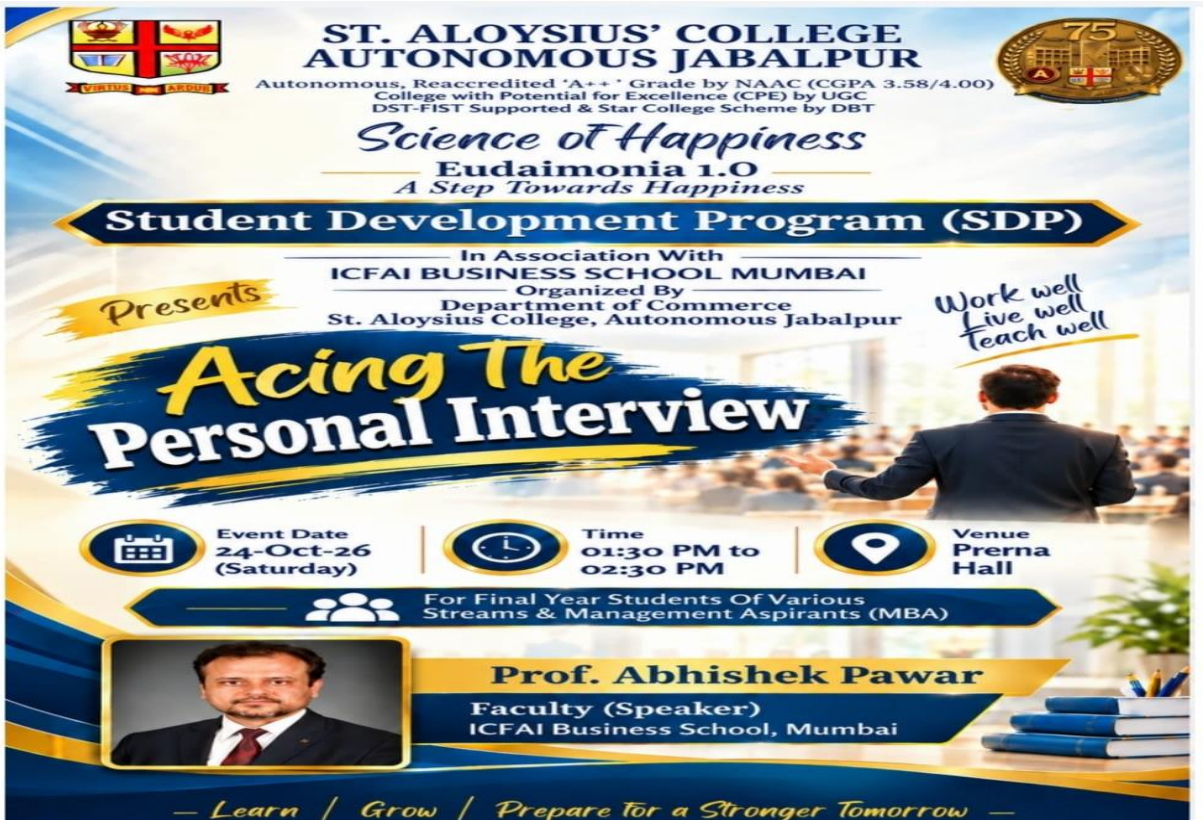

The Department of Commerce, in association with ICFAI Business School, Mumbai, organized a Student Development Programme (SDP) titled "Acing the Personal Interview" on 24 October 2026 under the banner of Science of Happiness – Eudaimonia 1.0: A Step Towards Happiness.

The session was conducted by Prof. Abhishek Pawar, Faculty Member at ICFAI Business School, Mumbai. The programme aimed to prepare final-year students from various streams and management aspirants for personal interviews and enhance their employability skills. Around 350 students participated in the programme, benefiting from the expert guidance and practical insights shared during the session.

The resource person shared valuable insights into interview preparation, effective communication, body language, self-confidence, and the importance of presenting oneself professionally during an interview. The session also highlighted the significance of preparation, clarity of thought, and a positive attitude in creating a lasting impression on interviewers.

The programme provided students with practical guidance and motivated them to approach interviews with confidence and professionalism. It was a valuable learning experience that contributed to students' personality development and career readiness.

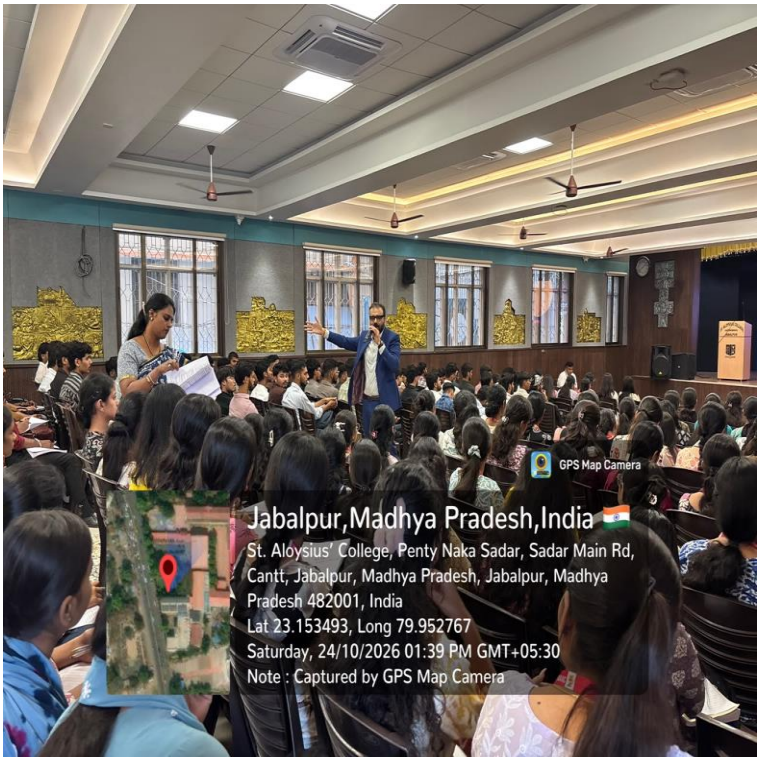

The programme was meticulously planned and executed by Dr. Nidhi Khurana and Dr. Ekta Mukar. The initiative was appreciated by Dr. Fr. J. Ben Anton Rose (Principal), Dr. Major Sonal Rai (II Shift In-charge), and Dr. Rupali Ahluwalia (Head of the Department).
