Report on Guest Lecture on NABARD and Career Opportunities

The Department of Economics, St. Aloysius College, Jabalpur, organized a guest lecture on "Introduction to NABARD and Career Opportunities in NABARD" on 15 October 2026. The session aimed to familiarize students with the role and functions of the National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (NABARD) and to create awareness about career opportunities in the banking and rural development sectors 86 students were attending the lecture.

The session was addressed by Ms. Devina Mehrotra, District Development Manager (DDM), NABARD, Jabalpur, along with a Certified Financial Planner from Punjab National Bank (PNB), who contributed to the discussion on financial awareness and career prospects.

The lecture began with an introduction to NABARD, highlighting its role as an apex development financial institution in India, established to promote agriculture, rural development, and rural financial inclusion. The speaker explained NABARD's major functions, including providing and facilitating rural credit, supporting agricultural and allied activities, strengthening rural financial institutions, promoting Self-Help Groups (SHGs), and encouraging rural entrepreneurship and sustainable livelihood opportunities.

A significant part of the lecture focused on career opportunities in NABARD. The speakers familiarized students with potential career paths, including opportunities through competitive recruitment examinations, particularly for positions such as Assistant Manager (Grade A) and other posts advertised by the institution. They highlighted the importance of understanding the examination pattern, eligibility requirements, current affairs, economic and social issues, rural development, agriculture, and banking awareness while preparing for such examinations. Students were encouraged to develop their analytical abilities, strengthen their understanding of economics, and remain updated about official recruitment notifications.

The Certified Financial Planner from Punjab National Bank further emphasized the importance of financial literacy, financial planning, banking services, and responsible financial management. The discussion helped students understand the practical relevance of financial knowledge and its applications in personal and professional life.

The lecture proved to be informative and beneficial for students of Economics, as it connected theoretical knowledge with practical insights into banking, rural finance, and development administration. It also encouraged students to explore career opportunities in development finance institutions and prepare for competitive examinations.
