I extend my heartfelt congratulations to the IQAC team for their exceptional work in creating this edition of the NEWSLETTER. As Helen Keller once said, "Success is not the key to happiness. Happiness is the key to success. If you love what you are doing, you will be successful." This resonates deeply with our belief that success truly lies in the doing, in the effort and dedication we put into our endeavors. As we approach the 4th cycle of NAAC accreditation, I urge everyone to contribute their best. Together, let's strive for excellence and wish each other success in this significant undertaking.

EMPOWERING EXCELLENCE: THE CRUCIAL ROLE OF IQAC IN STUDENT LEARNING

In the mosaic of higher education, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) emerges as a guiding light, steering us towards academic brilliance.

The IQAC, a beacon for continuous improvement, plays a pivotal role in elevating learning experiences. It aligns academic activities with institutional objectives, ensuring a cohesive educational environment that extends beyond classrooms to nurture well-rounded individuals.

A standout feature is the IQAC's commitment to foster a research-centric environment, encouraging both faculty and students to explore intellectual curiosity.

The IQAC not only enhances the academic environment but also focuses on tangible outcomes that positively affect students. Here are several ways in which IQAC plays a crucial role in benefiting students: Continuous Improvement, Student Involvement, IQAC facilitates feedback mechanisms, Curriculum Relevance, Holistic Development etc.

Through continuous improvement, personalized initiatives, and a focus on tangible outcomes, IQAC ensures that the educational journey of students is transformative them for success in their future endeavors.
