

NATURE CLUB

- ECOFEST and SCIENCE DAY CELEBRATION

Nature club celebrated Science Day with a weeklong series of various competitions. On 28th February 2019 department organized Ecofest. Chief Guest, Dr. A.P. Singh, Scientist Animal Biotech Division, JNKVV, Jabalpur, inaugurated the function while planting the medicinal plants. The guest delivered lecture on various bio scientific researches and their application in daily life. Rev.Dr.Vazhan Arasu, Principal, St. Aloysius' College (Autonomous) Jabalpur, showered his blessings and motivated students to participate in such events. Dr. Shikha Bansal, Head, Department of Botany and Microbiology introduced the theme to the students. It was followed by cultural programme organized by the students. The various competitions organized were Best out of waste, PowerPoint Presentation, slogan competition, salad decoration and working model . First three winners of each activity were awarded with certificates and prizes. 75 students participated in various competitions.

Department of Botany and Microbiology

- On 16th February 2019 department organized Guest lecture by Mr. Parag M. More, Advocate Patent and trademark Attorney, Navi Mumbai. He delivered Lecture on the topic transformation of ideas and expression. 60 UG and PG students attended lecture about IPR
- The department organized one day workshop on Mushroom Cultivation on 19th February 2019. Students of M.Sc. Microbiology were trained for cultivating Oyster mushroom under the guidance of Dr. Femina Sobin.