Dear Colleagues,

Greetings from the United Board!

Thank you for applying for the 2022 Adaptive Design for Learning (ADL) online course.

On behalf of Dr. Hope Antone, Director of Faculty Development, we are pleased to inform you that you have been selected to participate in the Adaptive Design for Learning (ADL) online course from July 4 to September 30, 2022. Offered by Ateneo de Manila University's Institute for the Science and Art of Learning and Teaching (Ateneo SALT Institute), the course includes six asynchronous modules and six synchronous webinars. Course takers are expected to submit all six assignments, including an action plan, and post at least 3 of 5 module exit tickets.

The United Board will cover your ADL course fee and inform Ateneo de Manila University of your selection for the three-month online course. Before we do so, please confirm your commitment to complete the course by filling in the online confirmation form at <https://forms.gle/faAgEQr9Y5ksTbgv7> latest by June 19, 2022 (Sunday).

Thank you for joining the Adaptive Design for Learning (ADL) Course!

This course will be facilitated by the Ateneo Institute for the Science and Art of Learning and Teaching, in Partnership with the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia. As announced, the course will commence in the coming week. Therefore, we'd like to send some initial information for your review.

The course will run from July 6 to September 30, 2022. The ADL course has been designed to be taken asynchronously. All of the modules will be made available upon joining the course. However, you are invited to join 6 synchronous webinars (including the orientation) that aim to build on the concepts introduced in the modules, as well as provide space for reflection and discourse.

It will be helpful to commit to a study schedule so that you not only space out the work ahead, but also find yourself engaging with parts of the course along with your co-learners. In anticipation of the formal course commencement, we would like to invite you to review the course study guide - this will give you an idea on what to expect in the coming months.

Continuing Professional Development in Whole Person Education
Harvard Bok 'Higher Education Teaching Certificate Online Short Course'

STATEMENT OF COMMITMENT

The United Board is providing scholarship for selected educators who will take the lead in whole person education training and similar training programs. The scholarship is for the eight-week 'Harvard Bok Higher Education Teaching Certificate Online Short Course.' In addition, the selected educators must join additional briefing/orientation and debriefing/closing sessions planned by the United Board.

Dr. Reeta Chouhan has been selected to join 'The Harvard Bok Higher Education Teaching Certificate Online Short Course' (August-October 2021 cohort). Signing this document indicates that the educator and their institution's head commit to the educator's active and constructive participation in all four components of the program:

1. Participating in the Zoom orientation and completing the pre-course survey conducted by the United Board before the start of the course;
2. Completing the eight-week online course designed by the Harvard University Derek Bok Center, including maintaining good time management and self-discipline in complying with the course requirements;
3. Participating in the Zoom debriefing and completing the post-course survey conducted by the United Board after the end of the course;
4. Submitting a short report and an action plan after completing the course.

The educator or their home institution is requested to pay for the online course fee in advance. The United Board will make the reimbursement after their completion of the program components. Inability to comply with the program components means forfeiture of the reimbursement, or the concerned educator/institution will have to return the course fee to the United Board.

*Applicable to those with a written request for special payment arrangement made to the United Board in advance.

Dear Dr. Siby Samuel,

Congratulations! You have been selected from a pool of many qualified candidates from throughout Asia to participate in the 2021-2022 United Board Fellows Program.

The United Board Fellows Program prepares talented mid-career faculty and administrators for leadership in universities and colleges in Asia through exposure to leadership ideas and practices in diverse university settings. The goal of the United Board Fellows Program is to build strong leadership for higher education institutions in Asia. We seek to strengthen networks of young leaders in teaching, research, and service and promote understanding and commitment to whole person education in Asian colleges and universities.

The 2021-2022 program will include a two-week intensive virtual Summer Institute at Singapore Management University (July 19-30, 2021), a one- to four-month Placement at an Asian higher education institution or a short-term Study Trip (to occur between August 2021 - April 2022), and a one-week Leadership Seminar in Singapore (May 2022). The fellowship will cover your round-trip international airfare, living stipend, and housing during the program.

If you wish to accept our invitation to participate, please return the attached grant agreement letter and terms and conditions document with the requested signatures by March 25, 2021. Additional materials, including introductory information and registration form, will be sent upon your confirmation of participation.

We look forward to welcoming you into this unique program in leadership for higher education in Asia.

Sincerely yours,

Nancy E. Chapman

Dear Colleagues,

Greetings from the United Board!

Thank you for applying for the Adaptive Design for Learning (ADL) online course.

On behalf of Dr. Hope Antone, Director of Faculty Development, I am pleased to inform you that you have been selected to participate in the Adaptive Design for Learning (ADL) online course on September 1 - November 30, 2021. Offered by Ateneo de Manila University's Institute for the Science and Art of Learning and Teaching (Ateneo SALT Institute), the course includes six asynchronous modules and five synchronous webinars. Course takers are expected to participate in discussion boards and submit individual assessments and projects, including a course syllabus and 2-3 modules on an online platform.

The United Board will cover your ADL course fee and inform Ateneo de Manila University of your selection for the three-month online course. Before we do so, please confirm your commitment to complete the course by filling in the online confirmation form at <https://forms.gle/8xG29H67AL4ev7A> latest by August 6, 2021 (Friday).

Attached please find the curriculum overview for your easy reference. After the completion of the ADL course, the United Board expects the course takers to submit reflections and action plans for cascading of their learning. This will help the United Board program team with our planning of follow-up activities.

As soon as we receive your confirmation and signed endorsement, we will transfer your application for the ADL online course to Ateneo SALT Institute. They will then take over the communication and contact you for further instructions on participating in this online course.

Please feel free to contact me at ccheung@unitedboard.org if you have any questions about the confirmation form. Thank you.
