Objective of the workshop

- To provide on campus trainings to the students.
- To promote the scientific knowledge, professional skill, entrepreneurship and marketing skills in Poultry farming.
- To acquire enterprise management capabilities including skills for project development and execution, marketing, etc related to Poultry farming.

Prologue

- Poultry farming is the process of raising domesticated birds such as chickens, ducks, turkeys and geese for the purpose of farming meat or eggs for food. Poultry – mostly chickens – are farmed in great numbers.
- Poultry is at the same time particularly important for small holders and poor rural and urban population and a commodity produced in large scale and intensive operations, making it one of the fastest growing agricultural sub-sectors
- Global production of eggs has reached 73 million tons and global production of poultry meat is close to 100 million tons (GLEAM 2, 2016). Backyard systems contribute to 8% of global eggs production and 2% of global poultry meat production. The majority (92%) of poultry meat production comes from specialized broiler systems and layers only contribute to 6% of the total.
- The world has over 23 billion poultry birds- about three per person on the planet (FAOSTAT, 2016), and about 5 times more than 50 years ago. They are kept and raised in a wide range of production systems, and provide mainly meat, eggs and manure for crop fertilization.

- Globally, India ranks third in the world in egg production and fifth in the world in chicken meat production. Although the production is mainly achieved through commercial means, the rural poultry sector also contributes significantly to the Indian poultry industry. It is looked upon as a reliable economic and nutritional source.
- The total poultry population in India is 729.2 million, which is 12.39% higher than numbers in the previous census (Livestock Census, 2012)
- Phoenix poultry farm is a wholesaler of broiler chicks, kadaknath chicks & country chicken in Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh.
- The Kadaknath or Kali Masi is an Indian breed of chicken local to Jabua and Dhar District of western Madhya Pradesh, where it is known as "Kali masi" ("fowl having black flesh"). Due to its high protein and very low fat and cholesterol levels, it is in high demand. Its fat content, is 0.73 — 1.03% compared to 13 to 25% in most other chicken breeds.
- Poultry is one of the fastest growing segments of the agricultural sector in India today. While the production of agricultural crops has been rising at a rate of 1.5 to 2 percent per annum that of eggs has been rising at a rate of 8 percent per annum.
- The growth of the global livestock sector is expected to continue. Global human population is estimated to reach 9.6 billion in 2050, with about 70% living in urban areas, while incomes could increase by 2% a year. In this context, Alexandratos and Bruisma (2012) projected that the demand for animal source food could grow by 70% between 2005 and 2050.

- Since the 1950s poultry farming in India has changed tremendously. From being an unorganized and non-scientific system it has transformed itself to a more systematic, planned, scientific, commercial and organized farming practice such as Phoenix Poultry farm
