Online Staff Enrichment Program on Code of Conduct for Research

Date: 13th September 2021

Report: The Online Staff enrichment Program on “Code of Conduct for Teachers” aims to educate and empower educators with a comprehensive understanding of ethical principles in research. The program covers essential topics such as the importance of research ethics, common ethical dilemmas, and best practices for maintaining integrity and transparency in academic work. Through interactive modules, case studies, and assessments, participants gain practical insights into applying ethical guidelines in their teaching and research supervision. Dr. Mita Darbari, Dean of Physical Sciences, St. Aloysius College, JBP, took the session and it was very fruitful for all the participants.

Impact: By fostering a community of ethically aware educators, the program not only enhances the quality of academic research but also ensures that teachers are equipped to guide their students responsibly in their scholarly pursuits
