Training program on "Values and Work Ethics"

Date: 7th July 2019

Report: The "Values and Work Ethics" training program aimed to instill a deep understanding of personal and organizational values, and the crucial role of work ethics in professional environments. Through interactive presentations, group discussions participants explored the formation and evolution of values, identified their own guiding principles, and learned to navigate ethical dilemmas effectively. The program emphasized the importance of fostering a values-based culture, aligning personal and professional goals with ethical considerations, and building relationships founded on trust and respect. Feedback indicated high participant engagement and satisfaction, underscoring the program's success in promoting ethical behavior and decision-making within the organization.

Impact: By participating in this program, teachers will be well-equipped to conduct research responsibly, ensuring the integrity and credibility of their work while safeguarding the rights and well-being of research participants.
